Why are US tariffs on solar panels coming to Southeast Asia?

U.S. trade officials announced on Friday a new round of tariffs on solar panel imports from four Southeast Asian nations after American manufacturers complained that companies there are flooding the market with unfairly cheap goods.

Where are solar panels made?

Most solar panels installed in the US are currently made abroad, and around 80% of those imported solar panels are made in Malaysia, Vietnam, Thailand, and Cambodia.

Why did the US impose new anti-dumping tariffs on solar panels?

The US has imposed new anti-dumping tariffs on solar panels imported from Southeast Asia, tightening restrictions on Chinese manufacturers accused of using these countries to avoid fair trade rules.

What is solar panel dumping?

Solar panel dumping is when a company sells solar panels abroad for less than the cost to make them or below their fair market value. It's a tactic to grab market share by undercutting local manufacturers, which can crush domestic competition, so governments often step in with tariffs to protect their industries from these unfair pricing moves.
