In November 2023, the Greek subsidiary of the Juwi Group, Juwi Hellas, acquired a photovoltaic portfolio with a total capacity of 267 megawatts (MW), consisting of three clusters (160 MW, 40 MW and 67 MW), from Hive Energy Ltd. The projects have now been sold to Foresight and Mirova.

It's a self-governing small group of islands under the external sovereignty of the Kingdom of Denmark. The Faroe Islands or Føroyar are quite far from Denmark; truth be told, its 18 rocky and volcanic islands are closer to Iceland, Norway, and Scotland. But one important thing to mention is that though Denmark is part of the European Union ...
