1. China: A Solar Superpower. China stands at the forefront of global solar energy production, harnessing an impressive 250 gigawatts of power. This achievement is driven by the country's massive investments in solar infrastructure, including the vast Tengger Desert Solar Park, which boasts a capacity of over 1,500 megawatts.

The northern region of China has been witnessing a remarkable surge in the construction of solar and wind power parks in recent years along its desert belt, transforming the area into a bustling hub for renewable energy while burnishing China's credentials as an environmental leader, he said.
